WORK AS A REGISTERED NURSE

IN THE UK, IRELAND AND AUSTRALIA

To become a registered nurse in the UK, Ireland and now Australia, a candidate must first clear IELTS or similar exam with band 7. After that, they need to clear a Computer Based Test (CBT). Then, they have to pass an Objective Structured Clinical Examination in the destination country.

Due to Brexit, the demand for nurses in the UK has increased. Carewin has tie-ups with health-care recruiters in the UK & Ireland who are looking to recruit 300+ nurses. For that, we provide CBT training for candidates who have cleared IELTS exam. Once the CBT is also cleared we provide a preliminary OSCE training.

We can help a candidate to get a work visa for the UK or Ireland where he/she could complete the rest of his/her OSCE training and takes a test. This expenditure is usually bared by the hospital/Trust. They can also try this for Australia on their own.
